ABOUT

DR. B. R. AMBEDKAR NATIONAL LAW UNIVERSITY, SONEPAT

Dr. B.R. Ambedkar National Law University, Sonapat (DBRANLU) holds a distinguished position among educational institutions since its establishment by the State Government of Haryana in 2012. The University came into being through the enactment of the Haryana Act No. 15 of 2012, which established the National Law University, Haryana under the legislative authority of the State of Haryana. As a remarkable tribute to Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, the eminent social reformer and chief architect of our present legal system and Constitution, the State Legislature of Haryana amended the University's name to Dr. B.R. Ambedkar National Law University, Sonapat in the year 2014. Situated within the sprawling Rajiv Gandhi Educational City, Rai, Sonapat, this state-of-the-art campus is designed to provide a modern and conducive learning environment. The University is dedicated towards imparting advanced legal education that transcends theoretical knowledge and focuses on the practical application of legal skills and interdisciplinary understanding. Its objective is to meet the demands of a just and equitable society by producing graduates who are well-versed in legal matters and equipped to contribute meaningfully to the legal profession. The University places great emphasis on the holistic development of its students. It cultivates a positive and supportive environment that nurtures their overall growth. DBRANLU offers a wide range of academic programs, experiential learning opportunities, and co-curricular activities to ensure that students receive a comprehensive education. The University promotes critical thinking, effective communication, ethical values, and leadership qualities, enabling students to become competent legal professionals and responsible citizens.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHANCELLOR'S DESK

Shri Bandaru Dattatreya
Hon'ble Governor of Haryana

As the Chancellor of Dr. B. R. Ambedkar National Law University, I am delighted to know that the university is introducing the Ph.D. Programme in Law from the upcoming academic year. Commencing the Ph.D. Law Programme signifies commitment to research and academic rigour. The said research programme is designed to cater to the diverse interests and aspirations of researchers in the field of law. I hope that the researchers under the able guidance of the faculty will conduct research on contemporary legal issues, inter-disciplinary subjects with a legal perspective, enabling them to think, research & innovate, thus contributing to the emerging legal issues.

I encourage all aspiring legal researchers to explore the meticulously, envision the possibilities that await you at the global level, and take advantage of the said research programme offered by the university. I extend my best wishes to all prospective applicants.

May this journey of research in the field of law be enriching, rewarding and filled with opportunities for growth in multiple aspects, thus contributing in a positive way to the individual growth and knowledge enrichment.

MESSAGE FROM THE VICE- CHANCELLOR'S DESK -Prof. (Dr.) Archana Mishra

At Dr. B.R. Ambedkar National Law University, we have always strived to deliver the best quality education and create an environment where students can grow intellectually. It is great pleasure to introduce from the new academic session 2024 the Ph.D. programme in Law. The University is committed to offering the best possible opportunities to the researchers & students. The said degree shall provide a comprehensive understanding of the law and it shall provide individuals with a range of advantages both professionally and personally. One of the main yields of pursuing a Ph.D. in Law is the opportunity to conduct in-depth research on a legal topic of interest alongwith its multidisciplinary impact. Through this research programme, individuals will gain a deeper understanding of complex legal issues, develop critical thinking skills, and contribute to the law making. It shall also lead to publications in prestigious academic journals, which will enhance individual's writing skills and will open up new career opportunities.

I am confident about the journey ahead and with the continued support of students, staff, and faculty members we will achieve remarkable milestones together in the field in legal research.

MESSAGE FROM THE REGISTRAR'S DESK

ADMINISTRATIVE BLOCK

LIBRARY

RESIDENTIAL HOSTEL

Dr. B. R. Ambedkar National Law University started its first academic session in July 2019. Five batches of B.A., LL.B. (Hons.) have been admitted, and the university is functioning from its main campus. Hostels are constructed on the latest modern pattern. These are equipped with all the facilities, including neat and clean mess/dining facilities. Hostels have eight floors that are accessible through lifts and stairs. The needs of especially abled people are also kept in consideration, and hostels are comfortable and accommodating for them. Hostels are also equipped with water purifier systems attached to water coolers to ensure a pure, drinkable water supply, 24-hour power backup. Proper hygiene and sanitation are maintained by the housekeeping service. The hostels have round-the-clock security, and all the hostels are equipped with Wi-Fi connections. There are recreational facilities for the hostellers, like table-tennis, board games, televisions, carrom boards, etc.

LIBRARY

Our university provides a well-designed, spacious, separate library premise with air-conditioned reading halls with adequate seating capacity. The DBRANLU Knowledge Resource Centre is an example of excellence regarding amenities and collection. This is a fully computerized Wi-Fi Knowledge Resource Centre. DBRANLU Knowledge Resource Centre has subscribed to many E-resources including Manupatra, Westlaw, JSTOR Full package, Lexis-Nexis, EBC Reader, and Live Law, which are also available in print forms.

DBRANLU Law Review is an online peer-reviewed and biannual journal of DBRANLU. The journal is dedicated to advancing legal scholarship and fostering intellectual discourse within the legal community. The journal aims to serve as a platform for the dissemination of high quality research and innovative perspectives across various domains of law. Our objective is to contribute to the enrichment of legal scholarship by publishing insightful and thought-provoking articles that address contemporary legal issues, theories, or developments as well as offer significant contributions to the existing body of juristic scholarship.

RESEARCH CENTRES

The eight Research Centres were established in 2023. These centres work on the most socially pressing and relevant issues. The established centres are multidisciplinary undertakings and bring together theoretical and practical excellence. DBRANLU has actively developed and organised its research infrastructure to consolidate and augment research output in terms of publications, projects, and contribution to policy frameworks. Continuing our research efforts, DBRANLU entered into a number of collaborations

1. CENTRE FOR PUBLIC POLICY AND GOOD GOVERNANCE (CPPGG)

This centre stands for propelling research endeavors, instigating scholarly debates, and nurturing practical proficiencies in diverse facets of public policy and governance frameworks. CPPGG embodies a dynamic entity, zealously dedicated to amplifying scholarly discourse and professional acumen in the sphere of public policy. Through rigorous scholarly inquiries, the center endeavors to incubate innovative strategies for addressing intricate societal challenges and advancing the collective welfare. It orchestrates specialized seminars, workshops, and capacity-building initiatives catered to students, policymakers, and stakeholders, nurturing a nuanced understanding of policy paradigms and governance dynamics. Moreover, CPPGG orchestrates a plethora of outreach initiatives encompassing symposiums, colloquiums, and advocacy campaigns to galvanize public engagement and amplify awareness on pertinent policy issues. Encouraging inclusive dialogues and stakeholder consultations, the center strives to foster a conducive environment for democratic deliberations and participatory governance practices. CP3G is steadfast in its commitment to fostering ethical governance principles, characterized by transparency, accountability, and equitable decision-making, thus epitomizing a beacon of excellence in the domain of public policy and governance.

2. CENTRE FOR COMPETITION AND CONSUMER LAW AND POLICY (CCCLP)

The Centre for Competition and Consumer Law and Policy aims to develop and nurture intellectual capital in the fields of competition and consumer laws. It seeks to engage with stakeholders including government organizations, regulators, judicial forums, corporations, policy organizations/think tanks and universities towards exchanging ideas, making policy recommendations, generating scholarship and spreading awareness in the realm of competition and consumer laws.

3. CENTRE FOR RESEARCH IN COMMERCIAL AND CORPORATE LAWS

The said Centre is being created with the objective to promote interdisciplinary research in the field of Corporate & Commercial laws and its effective governance. The purpose of the CRCCL focuses on following aspects:

- To promote comprehensive research preparing the students for viewing the world in an inter-disciplinary manner, endowing them with analytical skills to critically evaluate laws on corporate law & governance.
- To conduct study of corporate law and governance within its economic, business and legal context, with particular regard to how corporate law and governance mechanisms facilitate or inhibit economic activity.

4. CENTRE FOR CONFLICT MANAGEMENT AND DISPUTE RESOLUTION

The CCMDR is a multifaceted organization that promotes educational and professional development in conflict resolution. It conducts scholarly research to develop innovative solutions to complex conflicts and offers specialized courses, workshops, and training programs for students, legal professionals, and practitioners. These initiatives provide practical skills, theoretical insights, and ethical principles for effective conflict resolution practice. The centre also engages in outreach activities, such as seminars, conferences, public lectures, and awareness campaigns, to promote peaceful conflict resolution and the benefits of Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR). It encourages dialogue among stakeholders, fostering understanding and constructive approaches to conflict resolution. The centre also contributes to policy formulation and the adoption of ADR practices in various sectors. Its mission is to uphold ethical standards and principles in conflict resolution practice, upholding values like integrity, impartiality, confidentiality, and respect for the autonomy and dignity of parties involved in disputes.

5. CENTRE FOR CRIMINAL LAW RESEARCH & ADVOCACY SKILLS (CCLRAS)

CCLRAS, at DBRANLU, is established with the object of conducting & promoting research in criminal law in India. Further, the Centre disseminates & promotes stimulation based practical learning of criminal law advocacy skills. The Centre is headed by Director and consists of student members.

In contemporary times, research skills are essentially required for a legal professional to succeed in the profession. It will always be an asset for a law graduate to have legal research skills in either of its sub-discipline; the Centre aims at teaching research skills in the area of criminal law that will be helpful for the students in the field of litigation, public-policy, & judicial services. Further, the Centre runs two intra-university training-cum-competitions, viz., Criminal Trial Advocacy Competition (CTAC), & Criminal Appeal Competition (CAC). Both competitions run for over six months in which training on criminal law advocacy skills is imparted through ‘workshops’ and ‘stimulation-based activities.

6. INCUBATION CENTRE FOR LEGAL & INTER- DISCIPLINARY ENTREPRENEURSHIP (ICLIDE)

Innovation and entrepreneurship skills have become the buzzwords in education sector in last couple of yrs. With more & more fresh law graduates finding it difficult to hold their feet in legal profession during couple of initial yrs., it becomes important for the law universities to make them self-sustainable when they complete their graduation. The Centre is established with the purpose of imparting entrepreneurship skills among the law undergraduates. The Centre, further, assists the students in establishing their own venture in legal & inter-disciplinary fields, like, establishing a public-policy organization, or, establishing a law firm. Experts from the field of entrepreneurship are invited to hone the required skills among the students who are interested to start their own venture when they will graduate. It is an effort on part of the University to guide & assist its students in building their own venture.

7. CENTRE FOR IPR & INNOVATION

IPR Centre has been established for providing guidance on myriad aspects of IPR focusing on promotion and dissemination of knowledge on legal issues relating Intellectual Property Rights (IPR). . This center is dedicated to exploring the intersection of law, technology, and creativity, and to providing leadership in shaping intellectual property policies and practices. Through interdisciplinary research, educational programs, and outreach initiatives, the centre seeks to enhance understanding of intellectual property laws and their role in fostering innovation, economic growth, and cultural development.

8. CENTRE FOR CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND TRANSFORMATIVE STUDIES (CCLTS)

The "Centre for Constitutional Law and Transformative Studies" at DBRANLU University is a hub of academic rigor and social progress, committed to advancing scholarship and advocacy in constitutional law and transformative justice. Our interdisciplinary approach fosters critical inquiry and experiential learning, addressing contemporary challenges while promoting the rights and dignity of all individuals. Through partnerships and community engagement, we advocate for equitable legal practices and policies, offering specialized programs and workshops to empower students, scholars, and practitioners. Collaborating with stakeholders, we champion principles of fairness and empowerment, striving for a more just and inclusive society.

9. CENTRE FOR LABOUR STUDIES

The Centre for Labour Studies will endeavour through research, training and publication to reach all those who are concerned with different aspects of labour both in the organised and unorganised sectors.

The centre's focus area would be various issues related to labour regulations and governance. The objectives of the centre are as follows:

- To engage in research and advocacy of law related to employment laws.
- To understand research on domestic and international employment laws.
- To study the emerging jurisprudence of employment in domestic and international contexts.
- To research the legislative-judicial interface of policymaking and its impact on employees.

In connection with this, the centre will undertake research, organise seminars, and workshops and engage with stakeholders on specific issues of rights of workers.
